

Revenue Statistics Combined Reference Series

■ Key statistical concept

The reference series used in the publication are:

- GDP for tax reporting years at market prices, national currency
- Exchange rates national currency per US dollar
- Population

These data are extracted from various datasets managed by OECD directorates. The figures presented here are those used in creating the latest Revenue Statistics publication.

These datasets are updated periodically during the year and therefore the figures in the latest versions may differ from those implied in the publication.